English Language Proficiency

You will need to provide evidence of English language proficiency (ELP) in the form of recent English language test results if you have not completed the full four-years of higher education study required for registration in one of the following exempted countries:

Australia, New Zealand, United Kingdom, United States of America, Canada, Republic of Ireland.

This includes:

- All higher education qualifications obtained in a non-exempt country (i.e. a country that is not listed above)
- A postgraduate initial teaching qualification completed in Australia or another exempt country, with an undergraduate (first) degree from a non-exempt country
- Four-years of higher education study completed in total, with some completed in an exempt country and some completed in a non-exempt country. This includes where credit or advanced standing has been granted for study completed in a non-exempt country.
- Other combinations of qualifications on a case-by-case basis.

Details of the tests accepted by the QCT and the scores required may be found on the QCT website at www.qct.edu.au/Registration/english. An English Requirement for Registration fact sheet will also be emailed to you after you have submitted your application for registration online.

If any of your higher education studies have been completed in a non-exempted country it is recommended that you call the QCT for advice on whether the ELP requirement applies to you.

Teaching experience

A written professional reference is required from each school outside Queensland where you have taught in the last five years. The reference needs to cover the entire period you spent at the school.

Written references need to be on school letterhead. If you do not have written references, you are able to use the Professional Reference for Teacher Registration Applicant form that will be emailed to you after you have submitted your application for registration online.

Notes:

Professional references are not required for relief/supply teaching or for contracts less than three months.

For teaching experience in New South Wales government schools it will not be possible for you to obtain a written reference. The QCT will therefore conduct a screening check with the employing authority.

International police record check

If you have lived in any country other than Australia for 12 months or more in the last 10 years, since the age of 18, you will need to provide a national police record check from that country. The police record check needs to cover the entire time you lived in the country and show ALL names by which you are/have been known.

The QCT uses the RISQ Group as a preferred supplier for the international police record check. A unique link to their web portal will be on the confirmation submission email you receive when you have submitted your online application form. Click on the link to take you to RISQ where you can submit information and pay a fee directly to the service provider. Results of the check will be made available to you and directly to the QCT by RISQ.

If you already have an international police record check or prefer/need to apply for one directly through the official channels of a particular country the following delivery methods to the QCT are acceptable:

- post the original, or a correctly certified copy of the original document
- electronically-issued national police record checks can be delivered directly to the QCT by the issuing institution.

Please note that the QCT does not accept electronic delivery of a police record check via a third-party, such as the applicant for registration. Exceptions may apply in a minority of cases where it is known that a particular country will only release the document electronically to the applicant.

Translations

If any of your documents are in a language other than English, you will need to provide the documents in the original language plus full translations that are prepared and certified as correct by an official translation service or an accredited translator.

Document certification

All documentation supplied to the QCT to support an application for teacher registration must be certified copies of the original documents.

Who can certify a document?

- Justice of Peace

- Notary Public
- Magistrate
- Registered Medical Doctor
- Australian Embassy and High Commission Staff
